

Emotion and data are separated in the engine. And “emotion” generates a feeling according to definition table.

DEFINITION TABLE: Culture, tradition, habits, previously defined all information.

Impulses that we receive from outside world (vision,sound, words etc.) trigger specific regions in definition table and those regions trigger bounded regions in feeling table.